New Literature Information — For Immediate Release

COMPREHENSIVE NEW CATALOG DETAILS MATERIAL HANDLING STRUCTURES AND COMPONENTS

Creform Corporation, manufacturer of adaptive material handling systems has released the latest version of its extensive product line catalog. The new 124-page catalog features the company's full lineup of products for building workstations, flow racks, carts, AGVs and other material handling structures that can be repeatedly modified to adapt to changing manufacturing needs. Further, it highlights the 50 new part numbers added to the company's already comprehensive 700 plus inventory of part numbers.

The catalog provides details on the company's 28, 32 and 42 mm metal pipes and joints, plastic joints, casters, tools and fasteners along with accessories—all to build structures of varying configurations and sizes. It also provides detailed information on its lineup of AGVs—BST and Bolt-On styles, information stations and starter kits. Each product group listing within the catalog contains item photos, drawings and dimensioning, part numbers, specifications and use data to help the user arrive at the most efficient product for his needs.

The catalog provides a thorough description of the company's services including consultation, training, design, assembly, installation, preventative maintenance and remanufacturing services. And provides detail customer contact information.

The Creform System is used to create an array of material handling and efficiency enhancing devices and is a proven component in continuous improvement and Lean Manufacturing programs. The company partners with customers in developing and implementing these programs.
